

Dancing

Dance, the word itself makes me want to play the music and start grooving to the beat. Ever since I was young, I was always interested in only dancing. Any parties that were held and were quite grand, all my friends and I would dance. Ever since then, I was always only interested in dancing. My dream always was to become a professional choreographer some day. As I grew up, I realized that I am not going to take dance as my career and also it was my parents dream for me to become a doctor. Soon I developed interest in becoming a pediatrician, but I still had a craze for dance. Every chance that I had, to learn dancing from anywhere, I never wanted to miss any chance. If I have the chance, I would want to learn every dance style, but the ones I enjoy are contemporary and jazz styles. My only hope is that I get really good training in dance and I can really become an awesome dancer.
