

Love

Without you in my life
I would be colorless
I would be meaningless
I would be lifeless
In short, I would be a living corpse.
So come and give a meaning to my life.
Be my paintbrush
And swiftly paint me with your presence.
Fill my life with your bright and bold colors...

Mothers

You are the key to my success
You are the person who I exist because of???
You are the one who taught me what life is
You showed me this world
You showered me with you love and care
I can't succeed in life without your blessings
My Mother

Fathers

You are the person who taught me my A B C's
You are the one who protected me from every danger

You consoled me when I was weeping
You gave me a dose of your anger,
But then promised me it would help me later in life.

I grew up holding that finger of yours,
My father

Sisters

You couldn't control your excitement when I was born,

You realized the special voice in me,
You were, are, and always will be like my shadow.

You're the one who added excitement to my life.

The person I admire the most.

The person who was right there beside me when I had my first crush.

You tolerated my annoyingness, lovingness, and most of all,

You are my best friend forever.

I have a special attachment with you...???
