

FESTIVAL OF DIWALI

Diwali is a festival of lights. For many Hindus, Diwali is New Year's Eve. Diwali is celebrated with a variety of rituals, which depend in large part on one's location, but they center on the lighting of candles, electric lights and fireworks. Diwali is associated with the Lakshmi, the Goddess of wealth. It is the day when Lakshmi is supposed to have emerged from the milky ocean to bring prosperity to the world. People wear their best clothes or buy new ones, children are given presents and New Year greetings are exchanged through visits or Diwali cards. This festival of Diwali was also celebrated at SJMIS on 9 November 2010.
