

TEAMWORK & UNITY

The word teamwork gives us a glance of the world. Ever since the Wright brothers flew their first plane or Rihanna sung her first song, there was always teamwork behind the success. Teamwork is something that can never be ignored. It is something that the world is desperately in need of and the world has a lot of too. I mean, as the world is divided into numerous numbers of countries, teamwork plays a huge role in many of these countries. At the same time, in many places teamwork is forgotten or purposely overlooked. Teamwork is a crucial part of our lives because in order to socialize, we need to get along with people in our lives and teamwork gives you a chance to do just that.

When the world was facing one of the deadliest natural disasters' of all time, the tsunami, what did we all do? Hand in hand, we faced it and not only did we deal with it, we even found remedies to cover up all the holes the disaster left behind. This is the true definition of unity. You can copy the meaning of unity from any oxford dictionary but you will never understand the real meaning till you actually experience or feel unity. The feeling of unity will give you a taste of heaven. It will force you to do something for someone that will make you proud one day. You will look back and think of all the good deeds you have done but doing something related to unity will always stand out.

So all said and done unity and teamwork have been and always will be a decisive part of everyone's life. Unity and teamwork have helped the world in uncountable ways and always have proved to be essential in every person's life.
