

My Interesting

When I was young, I only thought of being Mask Rider or Hero that I had seen in the television. As I grow up, I realized that it is impossible for human to become Mask Rider or Hero. This causes my mind changing from being Hero to Scientist or Detective. That is because of Conan. He is a boy with an intelligent mind. He can analyze and observe things in a short period of time. He is a great inspiration to me for becoming a Detective. Another choice for becoming scientist is to invent useful items or accessories that would help people and make lives easier. Now, I am trying to study very hard about science and many important things about detective. I buy a lot of science comic books, remember chemist formula as well as mathematic formula. Being Scientist is not easy because I have to be good at science, physic, and math. So, I am intending to study Kumon that is about math. It could help me very well. Analyzing, observing, and critical thinking are also the most important things that Detective should has. I don't know what are going to happen in the future. So I would do my best to become the best scientist. I hope my invention could help people for better life. For detective, I could help find the truth and prevent from causing problem in community. This is all about my interesting.
